Character Background

You are a High Elf disguised as a Kobold. You have managed to glue enough bits of orange fur to your body to fool the best of them. If only the little terrors did not smell so bad. If it were not for the bottle of flowery Hyacinth that you brought, you probably would have plugged your nose by now.

Goals

You grow and sell the leaves of a plant called Sweetleaf. It has a pleasant odor and is highly addictive. Few know that High Elves actually got their name by always being observed under the influence of Sweetleaf. You are here to kill Shatus[#18], the rival Pipeweed merchant.

- Kill Shatus[#18]
- Sell your Sweetleaf
- Escape the plane alive

Enemies

Shatus[#18] sells a competing product. He must be eliminated.

Allies

Bluetooth[#12] thinks you are here to help kill a werechicken. While you may help her, you are not trained as a werechicken hunter.
