Character Background

Oh man, you are hung over! You do not hide the fact that you really like beer. You own the largest beer bottle collection of your clan mates. Fancy dishes and gourmet meals are fine. But they go so much better with their perfect sudsy companion, BEER!

Goals

The only thing that makes life worth living is a foam-topped frosty mug of beer. Now you are stuck in a cargo hold of an airship away from your precious brew. Perhaps there is some bottled love somewhere among all these crates.

- Find and consume as much beer as possible
- Escape the plane alive

Enemies

Puscag[#22] has made it his mission to moderate your access to beer. Vor, after all, would have blasted you with a lightning bolt had you actually urinated in the Blessed Chalice that one drunken night.

Allies

The robot dog B.E.E.R[#23] appears to also have an interest in acquiring beer. Perhaps you can help each other.
